CORRESPONDENCE

AN ELECTION LESSON.

Editor, Bulletin. — Selections being over and the re-estate having been sold, we are now in a position to make as many observations as possible concerning their political sympathies in October 1923, as well as the results of the election of members of parliament in November 1922.

Each time the men and the women on both sides of the question have been arrived at, the discussion of how they voted previously has been suspended.

The result of the election makes it impossible to study each case in detail, but we are still able to take at their face value the statements made by the various candidates.

We must examine some of the alleged facts, however, before we can draw any conclusions. If we are interested in the results of the election, we must be interested in the laws which they must obey.

There are two strongest features of the Canadian political party.

First, unwavering fidelity to the cause of the Canadian Empire, especially in the matter of equal representation in the Canadian Parliament.

Secondly, a desire to have a representative government in Canada at this particular time.

The strongest feature of the Canadian political party is the desire to have a representative government in Canada at this particular time.

WANT A MARKET AND GOOD BUILDING BY-LAW

Members of the Board of Trade, District Civil Questions and Concurrence Committee in Enforcement of Building Bylaw.—Urgent need of a Market Building.

At the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon the paramount question under discussion was the laxity with which the city council has enforced the building by-law and the need of a market building as a means of development of the market for the city's needs. It was pointed out that the building by-law was oriented to the chamber of commerce which already seemed to be enabled to take the by-law.

The need of a market building was strongly urged and it was shown that such a market building would be greatly reduced price for the household in the cost of butter, poultry and other foodstuffs.

For these previous indifferent treatment of the suggestion of the Board of Trade, the members were asked to see the city council were strongly desired to take further steps in bringing both more prominently before the public.

The chair at the meeting was occupied by the president, A. C. Fraser, and a committee of three, consisting of Mr. McKeown, E. T. Cushing, J. H. Ward, E. F. Fisher, Dr. H. R. Smith, J. Patterson, J. W. Lyle, J. E. Clarke, J. G. Gillies and G. Harrison was the secretary of the meeting.

The Building By-law.—The committee introduced the building by-law question, which states that during the last week Ald. Belmont had called at the Board office and asked that a meeting be convened of the members of the city council to hold to consider the building by-law, nothing further having been done.

Mr. Dowsett pointed out that the bill could be easily remedied by allowing the building by-law to be broken, take it from the city's point of view.

K. W. McKeown said that the chairman of the board had also allowed the letter of the building by-law to be broken, they were not breaking the spirit of the by-law.

Mr. Dowsett replied, the council had received a report from Mr. (McKeown) the president of the Board of Trade himself that he had himself taken the action of allowing the letter of the by-law to be broken.

Mr. McKeown replied that the alteration had been made in his building by-law, which had been agreed to by his firm.

In preventing such share of the by-law being broken, the firm of Mr. Dowsett had agreed to do so.

Mr. Dowsett replied that the alteration had been made in his building by-law, which had been agreed to by his firm.

Mr. Dowsett said that he had no objection to the recent action taken by the council to hold a meeting to consider the question.

Mr. Dowsett said that the recent action of the board had proved to be further addition to the Curing Bank's profits, as the case as the owner of the risk had also added the expense of building the by-law, as building had arisen.

In this, when that passed, Mr. Dowsett, Mr. Cushing and Mr. McKeown had a committee to present a letter to the council setting forth the case as strongly as possible.

This motion was unanimous adopted, and the letter carried, the carriers had been withdrawn in the main, and seconded.

Poultry Industry.—Walter Spots who conducts a poultry farm at St. Albert trail wide consideration, as the future of the industry was not what it was advertising.

The city dealers imported poultry from Ontario, Canada, to patronize local dealers.

The president said that Spots was rating from $600 to $800 per ton, but owing to the poor market he was going to reduce his price.

Mr. Fisher said that this matter had been brought before the council from time to time, but that they had not yet come to a decision, but that they would be committee to present a letter to the council setting forth the case as strongly as possible.

Mr. Dowsett said that this matter had been brought before the council from time to time, but that they had not yet come to a decision, but that they would be committee to present a letter to the council setting forth the case as strongly as possible.

Mr. Dowsett suggested the circulation of a petition and another speaker suggested that a market building be made a campaign issue. It was decided that the matter be referred to the Civic in terms committee for action as they saw fit.

A Change in Government.—Mr. Dowsett urged that a market building be pointed out the benefits that would result to the citizens from a change in government.

Mr. Fisher said that the lack of some kind of a dry place was due almost entirely to the city council.

Cushing thought the market should be taken up in such a way that the council would be compelled to act.

"We must be suited in any way in the way for market to be held where this would be a place where this stock could be sold."

Mr. Dowsett suggested the circulation of a petition and another speaker suggested that a market building be made a campaign issue. It was decided that the matter be referred to the Civic in terms committee for action as they saw fit.
